

Do you support strong public schools?

Declare your support and join the Iowa State Education Association (ISEA) by becoming a Community Ally member today.

Being a community ally to public education and the ISEA isn't a single act; it's a commitment. It's about recognizing our public schools' tremendous value, not just for our students but for the very fabric of our society. It's about understanding that strong public schools create informed citizens, skilled workers, and responsible leaders – the foundation of a thriving community. Strong public schools support the education professionals who serve them and the students in their care.

Join Iowa's largest union and work together for positive change. While we do not bargain your contract, your support and voice are vital. Become a member of ISEA through our Community Ally membership and:

- Be a vital voice
- Support policies that benefit our schools
- Connect with families and educators

You have the power to be an invaluable ally to our public schools. For $25 per year, you can join us as allies and help us be a driving force for a brighter future for all.
